

Dan Cribb

And THE ISOLATED

I'LL FOLLOW YOU ANYWHERE

More Than You Know

Can't get it straight I can't find the words to convey this feeling, but know I appreciate everything you've done here lately
I need you more than you know
I've been missing lately
Like fire at night
We'll burn forever
Won't turn back
This time I will fight
I need you to follow me back there My bright light, my only way back home It doesn't matter now, but it will come winter
I need you here, even though it might seem like I've been running around in my head

The Best Of Whatever

It's getting harder to call you It's getting harder when months just feel like days It's not like anyone warns you to take another breath or just step away
"It's better on the other side."
Collect your thoughts and try to compromise
Sit back and remember December forever Think back and remember the best of whatever It's getting harder lately
If you wanna turn it off, I know how it feels If you need to take some time maybe we can try to getaway
I know how it feels

Midnight

Let me out of here
'Cause I wanna feel it that way Yeah, I wanna feel it and I wanna breathe
it that way
In the middle of the night
If you go there, I will be here I'll be waiting for you "Take your time," they said
But I wanna feel it right now Yeah, I wanna feel it and I wanna breathe
it that way

Keep On Punching

Waking up at 5am with the streetlights softly gleaming
Do you feel the shift in mood?
Play it out, step by step, with the mud map you gave me

And the words that resonate: "Keep on punching."
I will
A silhouette, all etched in stone Always there from the beginning The strongest one I know Figuring out what you said, and the meaning Heard it before, but I'm here, and I'm listening Disconnect to connect all the dots
And the sequence of that all unfolding Think about the first damn time 'Cause it's all that makes sense as I lay here

Fade Away

Fade away
Don't wait for me
The ink has set, just carry on
Don't wait for me
The page has turned, it's all I've got Fade away
So far away
It's hard to visualise at all
So far away
It's hard to visualise the way that you looked in their eyes
From that one and only ink-stained memory

What You Believe

We can't stay here forever
We cannot live like this for long Take stock of what's right, what you're needing Before we kick off and start bleeding It's no use...
I will sit here, concede
If that's what you believe If that's how it's gonna be What's the end game you see?
What do you believe?
Won't cut through to me
'Cause it's now forever Take stock of what you're needing Before we all start bleeding Remember the night that you picked me up And we spoke and it seemed that it was enough
What happened to us?

Addicted For Life

Thinking back to when I met you, the room, it is so dark

Now the colours, the sights and the sounds, they all resonate I'm addicted to the drive
That feeling all the time
Watch every sunrise with you I'm addicted for life
And I know what is right Want every sunrise with you And every moment since I saw you, I've needed you to be everything that I am, and who I want to be I wanna spend my life with you

Full Circle

We grew up, carved our names in the curb It didn't matter when the feeling erode
We were here way back right at the start When we thought that maybe this thing would last
You can try to cut out the past I guess the fact is, we were on our path And if you feel what we're trying to say is getting lost here... maybe it's too late Calculate the distance Drive all day
It's less of a holiday, but you're not leaving I've got a feeling the journey's not over, you know
I've got a feeling it's so far from over It's more than just an endless road

If Not Now, When?

Remember the front row?
The words in the chorus seemed so bold Like you, not long ago
The words take new meaning And find their place so far from home
A kind of gospel, I've been told
If not now, when?
What really matters?
I can turn off, I can zone out as it all starts to go south
It's the music that mattered to you I've worn this clothing one too many times again, I know Not through lack of options, rather the meaning that they hold It helps to find a reason for the things we can't explain
That keep us up... again

I'll Follow You Anywhere

Don't go, I will be there, even though it's starting to get late I promise you I'll try my best to make a getaway

Breathe in, breathe out Hold on, hold out You won't be waiting long, but it seems so far away
Light a match and watch the flames rise Against the night sky and the sunrise I know it's getting late, but if you wait, we can leave together Hold out, hold on Feel that flutter I'll be right there, singing Shudder
I will see you soon Sit back and take me there
I'll follow you anywhere
I just want us to be free, 'cause it all scares the shit out of me

With Her Now

The card tricks seldom worked
It seemed on-point for you
Was half the charm Forget that – it won't last "You and I didn't always get along, but we did all right."
She said, "Don't go, he's already gone."
But I went that night to say goodbye
And you were all right with us by your side
It seems that maybe you've had a good life
They called me the next day
I knew when I saw the name
The way you smiled - forget that... it will last Fading out, like the radio Fading out, you're with her now

CREDITS:

Music written by Dan Cribb, Scott Connor & Brennan Pagels Lyrics written by Dan Cribb Produced by Dan Cribb & Troy Nababan Tracked & mixed by Troy Nababan at Hammerspace Recording Mastered by Paul Logus at PLX Mastering Vocals by Dan Cribb & Scott Connor Drums by Brennan Pagels
Bass by Dan Cribb Guitar by Scott Connor
Additional guitar and bass by Troy Nababan Additional guitar and vocals on Addicted For Life, Full Circle, Keep On Punching, Midnight and What You Believe by Nick Diener Artwork by Sebas Theriault at SterioDesign facebook.com/dancribbmusic instagram.com/danielcribb/peerecords.com/dancribb&theisolated

